With all the challenges facing the church today it is imperative that the development of leaders is not surface deep but has a depth and width necessary for a long and sustainable ministry.

The 2022 ANZATFE conference is a gathering of experts from across Australia and New Zealand to explore how such ministry can be enhanced through formation, supervision, and self-care.

Attending the conference will equip and inspire theological educators, church leaders, pastoral supervisors, and others concerned for this important issue.

Why attend?

- "A great opportunity for networking and learning from each other."
- "This conference has stimulated fresh thoughts for both my writing and my teaching."
- "Loved the strong and focussed theme across all three plenary speakers"
- "I enjoyed the collegiality of the conference. To hear what other colleges are doing and to learn about their thinking around integration."

The Conference will include the launch of a new book written by members of ANZATFE - Ministry in Context: A Guide to Theological Field Education and Ministry Internships in Australia and New Zealand. As well as this Perry Shaw will launch the second edition of Transforming Theological Education as well as a new volume Teaching Across Cultures.
